Thank You!

The Music Department at Dodge City Community College expresses our thanks to the high schools, their music directors and students for participating in this festival. Thanks also to the college music department students for hours of preparation and assistance, the DCCC maintenance staff for setting up the facilities, Fine Arts Administrative Assistant, Fransiska Durant, for the programs and so many other preparations that made this event possible. And last but not least, thanks to our audience for attending and supporting this event.

Dodge City Community College Music Department Faculty

Dr. Sarah Turley (DMA University of North Texas, MM Wichita State Univ., BM Wichita State Univ.), Director of Instrumental Music, directs the Wind Ensemble, Pep Band, Dodge City Symphony, chamber ensembles, and teaches woodwind lessons. A native of Dodge City, she was most recently on the staff of the University of Oregon Marching Band. Dr. Turley has taught music at Middle Georgia College, Brenau University, Georgia College and State University, and Wesleyan College, as well as in several public schools in Texas including Sherman, Coppel, Denton, and Garland school districts.

Dr. Turley also maintains an active performing career as a clarinetist, appearing with many bands and orchestras across the country including the North Texas Wind Symphony, Hutchinson Symphony, Eugene Symphonic Band, Oregon Mozart Players, American Bel Canto Opera, Opera in the Ozarks, LaGrange Opera, and LaGrange Symphony. Dr. Turley has given recital performances in numerous cities and conservatories throughout the Czech Republic, and was a member of the Ancia Cantore chamber ensemble in Macon, Georgia.

Dr. Charles Turley (DMA University of North Texas, MM University of Tennessee-Knoxville, BM Jacksonville University) is Assistant Professor of Vocal Studies at Dodge City Community College, where he directs all choirs and teaches voice lessons to students and community members alike. Prior to assuming his duties at DCCC, Dr. Turley was Assistant Professor of Voice and Director of Opera at the University of Oregon. During his ten years of collegiate voice teaching, he has also taught voice at Mercer University, Ouachita Baptist University, and the University of North Texas. His private students have performed in opera, musical theatre, and recital throughout the US and Italy and have been frequent winners in competitions throughout the South and the West Coast.

Dr. Turley has directed operatic and musical theater at the University of Oregon, the University of North Texas, Mercer University, Ouachita Baptist University, the University of Tennessee-Knoxville, and Opera in the Ozarks. He served as Director of Outreach and Opera Scenes at Opera in the Ozarks for the second consecutive year in summer 2007. He is an experienced church choir director, and served in numerous conducting and section leader positions in Texas, Florida, Georgia, and Tennessee since 1992.

A two time Regional Finalist in the Met Auditions, Dr. Turley has performed more than 35 operatic roles since 1994, throughout the United States and Italy, including Il Conte (Le Nozze di Figaro), Marcello (La Bohème), Figaro (Il barbiere di Siviglia), Germont (La Traviata), Guglielmo (Così fan tutte), Tonio (I Pagliacci), Gianni (Gianni Schicchi), and Escamillo (Carmen). In addition he has performed frequently with numerous symphonies and in solo recital throughout the U.S. and Italy. In the summer of 2006, he was a national semi-finalist in the NATS Artist Awards in Minneapolis. Most recently, Dr. Turley sang at the Summer 2007 Wintergreen Arts Festival in Virginia, performing a solo recital and the title role in the U.S. premiere of Respighi's 1935 edition of Monteverdi's Orfeo.

Guest Conductor

Dr. Matthew Mailman, Professor of Conducting in the Wanda L. Bass School of Music at Oklahoma City University, since 1995, serves as Music Director for the Oklahoma Opera and Music Theater Company and Conductor of OCU's award-winning Wind Philharmonic. He has conducted twenty-two operas and musicals and has led the Wind Philharmonic in seven world premieres, on five tours, at two OK Mozart Festivals, and at five convention performances. He teaches graduate and undergraduate conducting and coordinates OCU's Masters in Conducting program. Recent opera performances include Die Zauberflöte, La Bohème, and Andre Previn's A Streetcar Named Desire. He conducted Carlisle Floyd's opera Susannah at Opera in the Ozarks in the summer of 2007. Dr. Mailman hosts a weekly radio program on music for band, "No Strings Attached". The show is available by web streaming world-wide (www.kcsfm.com/listen_now.asp). Dr. Mailman has been a conductor with the Guy Fraser Harrison Academy since 1997, and is the conductor of the Harrison Academy Symphonic Winds. His work has been published in The Instrumentalist and Teaching Music, and he is a research associate and writer for the series Teaching Music Through Performance in Band. Southern Music publishes his arrangement of Mozart's Flute Concerto No. 2, K. 314 for Harmonie.
